While in Brussels, take a leisurely walk through the Grand Place, a UNESCO World Heritage Site that is sure to leave you in awe. Explore the narrow streets of the historic center and discover hidden gems such as Manneken Pis and the Atomium. Indulge in authentic Belgian cuisine, with classics like moules frites (mussels and fries) and waffles being absolute must-tries. And of course, don't forget to savor the famous Belgian chocolates that are sure to tantalize your taste buds.

Discovering Belgian Cities

Leaving Brussels, embark on a journey through some of the other remarkable cities that Belgium has to offer. Antwerp, known for its thriving fashion and diamond industries, boasts a lively arts scene and captivating historic sites such as the Cathedral of Our Lady. Ghent, with its medieval architecture and vibrant cultural scene, is another city not to be missed. Bruges, often referred to as the "Venice of the North," is a fairytale destination with its picturesque canals, cobbled streets, and romantic atmosphere.

As you explore these cities, immerse yourself in the local culture. Indulge in traditional Belgian cuisine at quaint cafés, sample a variety of craft beers, and appreciate the exquisite art and architecture that surrounds you. Each city has its own unique charm, offering a glimpse into Belgium's rich history and cultural heritage.

Returning to the UK

After immersing yourself in the wonders of Belgium, it's time to bid farewell to this enchanting country and head back to the United Kingdom. But the journey doesn't end here. Consider taking a different route on your return, exploring new sights and hidden gems along the way.

One option is to return to the UK via Calais, France, and embark on a road trip through the beautiful Kent countryside. Visit the stunning Leeds Castle, stroll along the iconic White Cliffs of Dover, and explore the charming coastal towns of Margate and Whitstable. This picturesque route will provide you with breathtaking views and an opportunity to experience the beauty of the British countryside.

I have visited our Belgian neighbours across the North Sea more than sixty times over the last twenty years. Each time I love this little country and its people just that little bit more. Taking the ferry from Hull on each occasion, I have explored the Province of Flanders by car, bus, train and tram.

This little book provides anecdotes and memories of these trips both at sea on the ferries and in the hinterland of the Port of Zeebrugge. Flanders isn't just about the beautiful medieval city of Bruges. Cast your net a little wider and visit Ostend, Sluis, Antwerp and Ypres.

If you like chocolate, beer, chips, mussels and friendly people you will love Flanders as much as I do. But don't take my word for it – go there!
